Infirmiry Health System ranked among the top 20 percent of national healthcare systems according to a Thomson Reuters study published in Modern Healthcare. Compared to more than 1,900 hospitals and 285 systems, Infirmiry scored well in measures of clinical quality, efficiency and patient satisfaction, and was one of only two in Alabama to make the list.

In addition, Infirmiry Health affiliate Thomas Hospital was the only hospital in the region to be recognized as one of the nation's 100 Top Hospitals.
